

Stormgarde – Everything (I did was wrong)

Take a look at the stars shining so bright
They were built in the ashes of endless fright
They died like love we shared so long
Too long to understand that everything I did was wrong

When I talked to you for the first time
It seemed so easy to make you mine
But I was blind, too blind to see
That you loved everything and everybody but me

Everything I did was wrong, everything I did was bad
Everything I did, I did it for you
Everything you did was bad, everything you did to me
Hurt me so hard and deep

When I talked to you, you didn't listen
I swore I'd love you till the day I die
My hate against you doesn't stop
I wished that I could kill, I wished that I could kill you

I can't live with or without you
I'm a prisoner in this circle like you should be
But you don't hear my screams
You don't see my suffering so my praying is in vain

Everything I did was wrong, everything I did was bad
Everything I did, I did it for you
Everything you did was bad, everything you did to me
Hurt me so hard and deep

Lyrics by Stormgarde (<http://www.stormgarde.com>)